During the history of ZAGNY, each successive Board of Directors has had the benefit of having the continuity by a majority of the members of the past Boards or experienced hands, so when the current Board was elected (with only Vispi Kanga and yours truly from the past Board) at the last Navroz function, many members wondered how things would pan out!! However, thanks to the numerous committed individuals from our community, the present Board with its new arrivals has done very well and if I may say so put its own stamp on community activities.

Beginning with the continuity of the Newsletter, our new Secretary, Khursheed Navder, and Joint Secretary, Kerman Dukandar, have kept up the tempo of bringing out info-packed issues of two Newsletters (this being the third one). Khursheed even coordinated the production of the 2005 edition of the ZAGNY Directory from all the way in India during her summer vacation. And those few of you who were present at the North American Mobed Council Seminar hosted by ZAGNY would be proud to appreciate the dedicated efforts and the organizational skills of our new Vice President, Nawaz Merchant. Your new Treasurer, Minoo Bengali, has taken the reins of the finances and the books and records of ZAGNY, and you can expect to see the results when the financials are presented at the next annual general meeting. Our member at large, Ferzin Patel, has put her heart and soul in organizing almost each of the activities; ZAGNY picnic, Mukta prayers, Pateti function and dinner, and religion class set up. She has been ably supported by all Board members but had the benefit of our experienced board member, Vispi Kanga, who has continued to guide each activity energetically. Sherazad Mehta, has been busy taking care of the Scholarship distribution to our college-bound members besides organizing the youth activities. And Michel Reid has rendered a yeoman service by building a very practical website for the benefit of the community. It would be futile to add that in these days of "on demand services", we would not be doing justice to our community if we did not use the technological resources of our Board members in delivering quick and relevant community news to our members and to the larger Zoroastrian community. So folks, watch out for the ZAGNY website and bookmark www.zagny.org as one of your favorite sites so that you can visit the site regularly to get the most updated community news. You may even contact Michel at webmaster@zagny.org for any help, guidance, or information.

It would be needless to add here that the new Board has received considerable help from all committed members, both old and new, without which this would not have been possible. Credit for this "seamless continuity" also goes to the immediate past Board members, who gave their invaluable guidance, directions, documents, etc. in setting up the new Board on the road to success. Some of the past Board members even took time off their busy schedules to come to the first Board meeting of the new Board and explained in detail to their counterparts everything they knew and some more! Past officers, like Arnavaz Patel, Secretary, and Jasmin Kotwal, Treasurer, continue to help when needed. Goolu Baria has continued to help with the Mukta prayers, and Usheen Davar has volunteered to carry the torch for us in the future for the community's participation in the Revlon Run/Walk program. I say thank you to each one of them who have contributed to the efforts of the new Board members. May this spirit of cooperation and contribution continue in the years ahead!

ZAGNY ANNUAL PICNIC

A great time was had by the young, old and restless at our annual ZAGNY picnic on Aug. 7th. Even though some were sore and stiff from all that cricket (thanks to Viraf Commissariat) our sporting crowd had a great time enjoying the food and each other's company. Our thanks to all the volunteers who helped make this day a fun event for us all. Here is what some had to say:

"We give you credit for not only planning our annual picnic but also for organizing the details and more importantly for bringing us together to enjoy each other's company in a relaxed and happy environment. Away from the normal, daily hectic schedule, the few hours of the picnic felt like a mini-vacation, We are sure everyone who participated will echo our views and appreciation for your effort." - Dinyar and Meher Hodiwala.

MUKTAD PRAYERS

Muktad prayers were held on August 14th at the Darbe Mehr and were attended by 100+ members. Thanks to our priests, Xerxes Antia, Rohinton Dadina, Poruz Khambatta, Karl Khambatta, Rohinton Madon, Jehangir Madon, Pervez Patel and Meheroz Rabadi for the solemn prayers and recital of names. Thanks also to all volunteers and board members who worked so hard in making this function a success.

Did you know that....Pateti is the day of repentance (Patet). It is the last day of the year, the 5th Gatha Vahishtoisht on which day one is supposed to pray Patet Pashemani prayer to repent for all sins of that year and then rejoice the next day—the first day of the new year.

She is currently obtaining her Master's in Human Genetics from Sarah Lawrence College in NY and graduated in May 2005. POWER OF CHOICE

Like many of you reading this, I was born into the Zarathushti faith. However, it wasn't until after my Navjote that I really started to question what being a Zarathushti meant to me. It was then when I realized that although I knew the basic tenants of the religion, and all my prayers, I didn't really understand what or why I was saying them, or what being a Zarathushti meant to me personally. In essence, I was everything I didn't want to be; a "blind follower".

As I began my quest to understand and reflect more about the religion that I was initiated into, I realized that the teachings were actually quite consistent with some of my personal beliefs and the way that I wanted to live my life. Once I started to understand more about what the Zarathushti religion meant to me personally, I felt more connected religiously and spiritually.

It's been many years since my initial reflection on the religion. Between the time that I began my search for a deeper understanding of the Zarathushti religion and now; my views and feelings about my faith haven't changed much. However, over the past few years, I have noticed that I haven't felt as consistently connected to the religion as I once did when I was younger. Although I still wholeheartedly value and believe in the religion, I've begun to question why over the past few years I haven't felt as spiritual as I once did.

In searching for these answers, I realized that part of the reason why I haven't felt as connected religiously lately is because I have been very content with my life. It seems as though the toughest times are when we seek the greatest guidance. There is a sense of comfort and peace for me when I turn to faith in my times of need. In speaking with many of my peers, I've realized that I am not alone in this way of thinking and that perhaps it is just human nature to turn to religion or spirituality in our times of need, loneliness, and grief. So does this mean that I am less of a religious Zarathushti than I was a few years ago when I felt more connected? I'm pretty sure and would like to think that the answer to that is "no". Conversely, perhaps the reason why I don't feel as spiritually connected "these days" is because I have already sought out what the Zarathushti religion means for me in my life and I am very comfortable with my faith, thus leaving me feeling very internally content with my life.

Although recently I've seen myself turn more to faith in my times of "need", I've also found myself equally reflecting upon my faith and life in times of sheer happiness and being very grateful for the fact that I can feel such contentment. My understanding of and faith in the Zarathushti religion has given me guidance that has ultimately left me with confidence and a positive

Like many of you reading outlook for each day. It has also helped me appreciate life's many experiences including both the sad and happy moments. Our religion encourages us to not "blindly follow", thus I hope that everyone at some point in their life is able to take time out to reflect and question what the Zarathushti religion means to them personally.

"From the beginning you fashioned for us physical bodies, an awakened conscience and a directive intelligence through Your own Mind. You infused life's breath into mortal forms. You granted us capacities to act and true teachings to guide us so that one could choose beliefs at will." (Ys.31.11-13)

I am very interested in hearing others' thoughts & opinions on this topic.

Feedback is appreciated!

FUN IN THE SUN SUMMER VACATION 2005

Hey kids, even though summer's over, we would love to hear about your summer adventures. Let us know the major highlight(s) of your vacation (send in a picture too if you can). We'll start with a few responses in this issue and hope to print a lot more in our next newsletter!

Tina Dukandar--The number one highlight of my summer was my sister Jasmine's sweet sixteen. It was the party of the year. I was glad that my family could come all the way from India, Florida and Chicago to attend the party. The party was awesome. We danced all night. I danced to two songs; Kajra Re with two of my friends from dance school and I also danced to Dhoom Machale. My sister Jasmine also danced to the song Sona Sona from Bombay Dreams. Jasmine had a big smile throughout the party. It's so great to look at the pictures now and see what a good time everyone had. I can't wait for my super sweet sixteen!

Neville Dusaj--We usually go to India every other summer for the entire vacation. My sister, Natasha and I always look forward to our trips--meeting grandparents, cousins, aunts, uncles---getting presents, and best of all not having any schedules. Even though everyone says it's awfully hot there in the summers, the weather has never bothered me. We attended my *bu*a (aunt's) wedding and it was fun hiding the groom's shoes—each of us got paid Rs. 500 by the groom's mom to get his shoes back from our custody (it's a Hindu custom by the way, so most Zoroastrians reading this might not find it funny). One REALLY cool thing, and definitely the highlight of my trip was when my grandpa allowed me to ride a moped (a sort of two-wheel scooter). Since I am only 10, I would never have dreamt of doing this in the U.S.!

Tanaz Karai--Over the summer, I went to Chicago and India. The last day of school, we drove to Chicago to attend the graduation ceremony of my aunt, who is here from India. She was the speaker at the graduation and it was very good. I then went to India. It was fun because I traveled alone (19 hours is a very long flight and that's the only part I did not enjoy) as an Unaccompanied Minor and stayed in Mumbai with my grandparents and aunt. Though it was very hot over there, I had lot of fun shopping, eating out and meeting my relatives in Mumbai. On July 26th, Mumbai had the heaviest rainfall in 100 years (37.1 inches). There was no power for 24 hours in Andheri where I was staying. That really scared me. Many people died and many others had a hard time coming home from work because there was flood of water everywhere. When I came back to NJ, I went to two sweet sixteen parties, one of my cousin Jessica and another of my friend Jasmine's. I had fun with my friends and parents in the remaining days of August. We went to Six Flags, Camden Aquarium, Bronx Zoo, and FantasyIsland. The summer was too good and I can't wait for the coming summer.

IVY F. GANDHI YOUTH CAMP 2005

Here are some facts on Zoroastrianism that our kids learnt in the Ivy Gandhi Summer Camp 2005 from Anahita Kotwal and Zubeen Shroff. We're quite sure a number of you were not aware of these—

- The three wise men of magi who brought gifts to the baby Jesus are believed by scholars to have been Zoroastrians. They brought three gifts with them, frankincense (loban), myrrh and gold.

- A statue of Zoroaster is included on the top of the New York Supreme Court building on 27 Madison Avenue in New York city along with other famous lawgivers. Zoroaster's name is also engraved along with a similar group of famous thinkers on the façade of the Brooklyn Museum.

TO SUPPLEMENT OR NOT TO SUPPLEMENT.....?

If you eat a healthy diet, do you need to take vitamins? Not long ago, the answer from most nutrition experts would have been an emphatic "no". Today, though, evidence shows that taking a daily multivitamin makes sense for most adults. What's changed? Not only have scientists determined why we need these vitamins, but they are also accumulating evidence that vitamins do much more than ward off the so-called diseases of deficiency, things like scurvy and rickets. Intake of several vitamins above the minimum daily requirement may prevent heart disease, cancer, osteoporosis, and other chronic diseases.

What's The Bottom Line? While a standard multivitamin provides a dozen or so of the vitamins known to maintain health, it doesn't even come close to making up for an unhealthy diet and is a mere shadow of what's available from eating plenty of fruits, vegetables, and whole grains. A standard, store-brand, RDA-level multivitamin can serve as a sort of nutritional safety net. For under $40 a year, it is viewed by many as the least expensive health insurance they can ever buy!

Do You Know Why Vitamins Aren't Named A through F? Vitamins as we know them today (A, B-Complex, C, D, E, and K) don't follow alphabetical order because errors were made when vitamins were discovered. They were named in alphabetical sequence, but some substances turned out not really to be vitamins. The letters assigned to these substances were dropped, so the sequence is interrupted.

Know Your Vitamin ABC's?

1. Citrus fruits are good sources of: _____
2. Needed for absorption of calcium and phosphorus and bone formation: _____
3. This vitamin is found in animal products and microorganisms only: _____
4. Needed for vision in dim light: _____
5. Essential component of mechanisms that cause blood to clot when bleeding: _____

Answers: 1. C; 2. D; 3. B12; 4. A; 5. K

What's COOKIN'?

Once you get past pumpkin pie, many are clueless when it comes to cooking winter squash. Here's a simple but smashing healthy recipe.

SWEET POTATO PUMPKIN SOUP

- 1 Tbs. Olive oil
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 tsp Ground ginger
- ¼ tsp cumin
- ¼ tsp ground nutmeg
- 2 garlic cloves, crushed
- 2 cups peeled, cubed sweet potato
- 2 cups fat-free chicken broth
- 1 15-ounce can pumpkin
- 1 cup 1% milk
- 3 Tbs. reduced-fat sour cream
- 1½ cups water

1. Heat olive oil in large pot. Add onion and saute for ~5 mins. Add the ginger, cumin, nutmeg and garlic and cook for 1 min.
2. Stir in the sweet potato, chicken broth, water and pumpkin and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer for 14-20 mins or until sweet potato is soft, stirring occasionally.
3. Stir in milk until heated (don't boil). Ladle into bowls and serve with ½ Tbs. sour cream. (If you like your soup smooth, puree in a blender before serving).
