UDVADA ATASHBEHRAM LUNCHEON

October 21, 2007

Our 23rd annual ZAGNY sponsored luncheon get-together on October 21st 2007 in honor of Udvada Atashbehrum (Pak Iranshah) was another major success, thanks to all of you who attended or sent in your donations. Everyone enjoyed the delicious lunch prepared by Sheroo Kanga.

For those of you who are not aware of the history, this extremely valuable effort started in 1984 when Erach Munshi and his late wife, Perin, decided on this worthwhile community project to help deserving Parsis and support the maintenance of Atashbehrums in Udvada, Navsari and Surat. Since then, members of ZAGNY and our sister Zoroastrian Associations of North America have been sending contributions every year. Since 1984, under the auspices of ZAGNY, the Zoroastrian community of North America has remitted a total sum of $313,000 (approximately Rs. 1.4 crores) toward this noble cause!

This year thanks to all your generous donations, an amount of $17,600 has already been received to date, but Erach Munshi's goal is to collect $35,000 by June 2008. If you wish to make contributions, checks can be made to ZAGNY Critical Assistance and sent to Erach Munshi (212-865-6683).

We also celebrated Kamal Davar's Birthday that afternoon with a cake. Kamal has been a former board member and a long time supporter of our religion class and other ZAGNY activities over the years.

NEXT GENERATION CONFERENCE

Submitted by Farah Minwalla

From October 12-14, 2007, the Zoroastrian Association of Chicago hosted NG07. "Next Generation Now," is the first in a series of conferences designed to strengthen and support the perpetuation of our Zarathushti communities by stimulating inter-generational dialogue, cultivating leadership, and paving a path for real-world problem solving. It was truly my pleasure to have attended this insightful conference representing ZAGNY and to have first handedly seen the North American Zoroastrian community unite to discuss issues facing my generation and the community at large. The weekend conference was diligently broken into three sessions titled, "Education, Perpetuation, Awareness," "Achieving Harmony Through Diversity," and "Community Building: The Next Generation Blueprint". Following each session there were panel discussions, small group breakout sessions, and large town-hall-style Q&A sessions. Not only were the distinguished speakers knowledgeable about the challenges facing the Next Generation, but the delegates also engaged in passionate rhetoric. NG07 was sponsored by ZAC, ZYNA, WZCC-Chicago, and FEZANA. Conference co-chairs Jim Engineer and Nikan Khatibi also did an exceptional job making sure the conference ran on time and everyone was allowed time to voice their opinion. NG07 has received phenomenal feedback from the North American Zarathushti community following with exposure in the Chicago Tribune and the Asian-American News Network. The next NextGenNow conference will be held on the West coast in the first half of 2008. I cannot wait until NG08 and strongly encourage all members of our community especially youth to attend.

The excitement and desire to lead and learn displayed at NG07 has left me feeling very hopeful and confident in our community. The Next Generation of Zoroastrians is a very sunny group of individuals indeed.

ZAGNY MEMBERSHIP RENEWAL

It is once again time to renew your ZAGNY Membership for the coming year. Membership to ZAGNY is on an annual basis and is due on January 1st for the calendar year. Do become a member if you are not one. Please renew your membership promptly, if you are a current member.

HALLOWEEN PARADE

Our annual Halloween costume pageant once again drew in many marchers. Among this year's signature features were our toddler twins dressed in cuddly duck and monkey outfits, a couple Disney princesses-- Cinderella and Sleeping Beauty, a gorgeous little Ms. India, a dazzling Tinkerbell, an adorable whimpering baby, a graceful ice skater, a magnificent mermaid, a little witch, a Superman, Batman, Buzz-Lightyear, a Power Ranger, a Ninja Turtle, a scary-skeleton, and two sporting adults--a cat and a witch.

Our teenage youngsters who felt they were too old to dress up helped judge the costume contest. Farah Pavri dressed as the little Ms. India won the first prize, Batman Davin Patel won the second, and little Carina Daruwala (Tinkerbell) took the third. The winners as well as all contestants got spooky pails filled with candy and cool bendy-pens (thanks Ferzin for getting these gifts for the children). The kids then had a fun time decorating and gobbling down ghoulishly good cupcakes with Halloween icing and sprinkles.

We were fortunate to have Professor Kaikhosrov Irani in our midst at the November religious class. While the children's classes were underway, the adults got to hear him give yet another interesting talk. A summary of this discourse is given below.

SUMMARY OF PROF. IRANI'S TALK

Submitted by Joe Ball

Professor Irani enlightened an audience of 30 or more with his usual combination of scholarship, wisdom, and wit. He began with a brief presentation of linguistic and archaeological evidence that places the prophet Zarathustra around 1500 BCE. Noting that the theories about the so-called Proto-Indo-Europeans are based on linguistic evidence that demonstrates the common ancestry of Sanskrit, the Gathas, and various European languages; Dr. Irani shared slides from his personal collection that included such rare images as perfectly preserved bodies from ancient tombs (ca. 1800 BCE) of the area north of Tibet. Speaking without notes, Professor Irani's remarks spanned areas relating to early Zoroastrian morality, Zoroastrian influence on Indians, the roots of the cult of Mithraism, and the early history of the Aryans in the Indus Valley. Prof. Irani is Professor Emeritus at the City College of New York where he is currently teaching a seminar on ethics.
